

Consultant Gynaecology, Sweden

Are you a specialist in gynaecology and obstetrics looking for a new role with flexibility and continuity in patient care?

We are currently recruiting for a private outpatient gynaecology clinic located in one of Sweden's most attractive coastal towns.

This is a well-established clinic with a strong reputation and high patient demand.

Outpatient gynaecological care

Long-term collaboration preferred

Modern facilities with short decision paths

High autonomy and flexible working conditions

The location offers stunning beaches, a lively cultural scene, and proximity to both nature and city life. With excellent transport connections, it's easy to reach both local and international destinations.

Requirements:

EU specialist certification in gynaecology and obstetrics

Proficiency in English and motivation to learn Swedish (language course provided)

Professional and independent working style

Strong interpersonal and communication skills

What we offer:

Continuous support from a dedicated recruiter throughout the entire process

Assistance with obtaining Swedish medical license and specialist approval

Relocation support for you and your family, including travel and housing arrangements

Free Swedish language course with a private tutor online
