

ENT specialist, Norway

On behalf of a hospital in Western Norway, we are seeking an experienced ENT specialist for a permanent position.

Located along Norway's stunning west coast, this hospital offers diverse ENT services, high-quality patient care and advanced medical facilities. This opportunity is ideal for specialists aiming to grow in a multidisciplinary setting, where patient-centred care and professional development are top priorities.

Responsibilities:

Conduct outpatient consultations, including diagnostic and follow-up care.

Perform surgeries such as paracentesis with tube insertion, adenoidectomy, tonsillectomy, septoplasty and endoscopic sinus surgery.

Provide ongoing care for patients with chronic ENT conditions.

Collaborate closely with other medical departments to deliver comprehensive care.

Qualifications:

European authorisation as a medical professional.

European certification as an ENT specialist.

Experience in outpatient and surgical ENT practice.

Proficiency in English and motivation to learn Norwegian (free language course offered).

Strong communication skills and the ability to work effectively in a team.

The hospital offers:

Access to modern facilities and the latest medical technologies.

Emphasis on professional development with opportunities for further education and training.

A collaborative and supportive work culture with a focus on staff well-being.

Competitive salary and pension benefits.

Additional benefits:

Continuous follow-up from an advisor throughout the recruitment process.

Assistance with Norwegian medical authorisation and specialist approval if necessary.

Help with accommodation, travel, and family relocation if needed.

Free language courses with a private tutor online.

Location:

Situated on Norway's picturesque west coast, the area around this hospital offers breathtaking natural landscapes, from fjords to mountains. Close to larger cities, the area offers a rich cultural scene with local festivals and performing arts venues, fostering a lively cultural atmosphere. Residents enjoy a mild coastal climate and a variety of outdoor activities, from hiking and skiing to water-sports, making it an ideal location for those who value nature and active lifestyles.
