

Infectious Diseases and Internal Medicine Consultant, Ireland

Location: Dublin

Salary: EUR 235'900 - 283'300 p/a

We are seeking a dual-trained Consultant in Infectious Diseases and General Internal Medicine to join a large, busy acute teaching hospital in Ireland.

This is an excellent opportunity to work within a progressive and expanding department, delivering high-quality care across both specialist infectious diseases services and acute general medicine.

The successful candidate will join a dynamic multidisciplinary team and play a key role in service development, education, and clinical leadership.

Key Responsibilities:

Provide consultant-led care in Infectious Diseases and General Internal Medicine

Participate in the acute on-call rota for General Medicine

Support the development of Infectious Diseases services locally

Work collaboratively within multidisciplinary teams

Contribute to teaching, training, and clinical governance activities

Engage in quality improvement and service innovation initiatives

Essential:

Specialist registration (or eligibility) with the Irish Medical Council

Dual training in:

Infectious Diseases

General Internal Medicine

Experience working at Consultant level

Strong commitment to multidisciplinary and patient-centred care

To Apply:

Please send your CV mentioning reference M-253 at info@phd-jobs.net

Tel.: +40 (765) 734 800

HR Partner, Vitaly Pryadka

Web: <http://www.phd-jobs.net>