

Emergency Medicine Consultant, Ireland

Location: Dublin

Salary: €226681 - €272290 p/a

Looking for a rewarding career in a leading medical facility? Connolly Hospital in Dublin is offering an exciting opportunity for an Emergency Medicine Consultant. This role allows you to make a real difference in patient care while being part of a supportive and skilled team just minutes from Dublin's lively city centre.

Connolly Hospital is a modern healthcare facility known for its high standards of care, especially in the Emergency Department (ED). If you're passionate about delivering compassionate, top-quality emergency care, this could be the perfect fit for you!

Why Connolly Hospital?

Prime Location Just 20 minutes from the heart of Dublin, enjoy the city's culture, dining, and entertainment while working in a respected medical setting.

Collaborative Team Work with experienced colleagues in a hospital that fosters innovation and teamwork.

Modern Facilities Modern emergency care units designed to help you provide the best possible care.

What you'll be doing:

Providing expert emergency care to patients from a diverse community.

Leading and working alongside fellow consultants to manage the ED's clinical operations.

Shaping and improving care systems for ED patients.

Offering support and guidance to non-medical clinical staff in the ED.

Creating a collaborative environment where both patients and staff thrive.

What you'll need:

Eligibility to register with the Irish Medical Council (IMC) under the Specialist Registration.

Fellowship of the Royal College of Emergency Medicine (FRCEM) or an equivalent qualification.

Proven experience as an Emergency Medicine Specialist or Consultant.
