

Family Doctors for Private Practices, Germany

There are many family doctors in Germany, who want to go into retirement and do not find successors for their practices.

We provide support and advice to specialists in general practice and internal medicine who want to start their own medical practices in Germany.

We will find a suitable, profitable medical practice for you, organise the financing and acquisition and support you with all other necessary formalities.

We will guide you from applying for a medical licence all the way to acquiring a practice.

If you do not have the necessary German skills yet, you can attend our special language courses for physicians.

Upon request, we will organise a practical training period. Moreover, you will have the opportunity to collaborate with the previous practice owner before the acquisition to familiarise yourself with all processes.

Our extensive experience has already helped many foreign physicians to successfully acquire a medical practice in Germany!

We work exclusively on a contingency fee basis, so you do not assume any financial risk.

Own capital is not necessary. A German bank will give you a loan with a very low interest rate and in some areas you will receive a subsidy for the price of the practice.
