

Forensic Psychiatrist, Denmark

You will work in a recently modernised, high-end facility with an excellent location. The design of the building incorporates elements of the famous Danish healing architecture; from one viewpoint, patients can enjoy the mesmerising view of the nearby fjords, whereas, from another point, they can take pleasure in the calm nature and local woods. The building includes a multipurpose hall, and a therapy pool, and the facility holds 126 beds. We offer a rapidly developing department with a challenging, stimulating, and inspirational environment focusing on good patient treatment, close cooperation within the unit and with external collaborators as well as an active educational environment.
