

General Practitioner, Sweden

We are looking for:

We are looking for a specialist in general medicine from any EU country. If you study the final year of your specialist education, it can also be accepted.

Requirement:

We want you and your whole family to want to move to Sweden. You should be a doctor with education from an EU country. You must be able to speak English since the first interview takes place in that language. German can also be accepted. You should burn for your profession as a general practitioner. If you have double specializations, it is often seen as an advantage.

Benefits:

You will work in a well-established work team with several doctors, highly educated nurses, psychologists, physiotherapists. The employer will do everything possible to make you feel welcome in your new city and workplace.

Other:

The city is about 1.5 hours from Stockholm.

A relocation allowance of maximum 50,000 sek will be offered!

At most health centers in Sweden, there are several professional groups that work closely together: these are: nurses, nurses with different specialist areas, physiotherapists, psychologists and doctors. In addition, most health centers have large premises with rooms focused on various disease states and smaller laboratories. As approximately 90% of all care seekers are expected to be cured at the health center, the work as a GP in Sweden offers a bigger challenge than in most of the EU countries.

Salary and working hours:

Initial salary during trial (first 6 months): 60,000 sek.

Salary after the first 6 months: Negotiable

Working hours: 40h / week. 2-3 duties / month upon agreement and with financial compensation according to the Swedish Medical Association's agreement
