

Specialist doctor Pulmonology or Allergology, Sweden

A reputable clinic in Sweden is seeking specialist doctors in pulmonary medicine or allergology to join their team. The clinic offers excellent opportunities for professional development and the chance to work with diverse patient groups. If you have specific interests in pulmonary medicine, we can tailor your role to match them.

Your responsibilities:

Outpatient and inpatient care: Provide comprehensive care in both settings.

Primary examinations: Conduct initial examinations and medical history assessments.

Team rounds: Participate in multidisciplinary rounds, especially for patients dependent on oxygen or ventilators, and some cancer patients.

Pulmonary interventions: Perform procedures such as bronchoscopy, EBUS, and thoracic drainage.

Inpatient care focus: Primarily manage pulmonary patients.

Developmental work: Engage in ongoing projects to advance pulmonary medicine.

County mission: Be available for consultations with medical colleagues throughout the county.

Supervision and mentoring: Guide and mentor resident doctors.

Requirements and skills:

Medical license: Valid license and specialist approval from an EU country.

Specialisation: Degree in pulmonary medicine.

Professionalism: Confident, stable, and possesses good communication skills.

Responsibility: Takes personal responsibility and collaborates well with others.

Cultural awareness: Sensitivity to diverse cultural backgrounds.

Initiative: Structured and proactive approach to work.

What we offer:

Research opportunities: Access to excellent research facilities and conditions.

Competitive salary: Attractive compensation package.

Stimulating workplace: A dynamic environment with dedicated colleagues.

Work-Life balance: No shift work required.

Supportive environment: A welcoming clinic where both doctors and patients feel safe and valued.

Additional benefits:

Professional recruitment: Expert headhunters to assist you.

Local partnerships: Collaboration with reliable local partners.

Free language course: Personalised lessons via Teams with a private tutor.

Comprehensive support: Assistance throughout the recruitment process.

Customised information: Information tailored to your needs.

Relocation assistance: Help with finding accommodation, schools, kindergartens, and more.
